

Prof. Dr. rer. nat. Markus Bender

Name: Prof. Dr. rer. nat. Markus Bender
Work address: Institute of Experimental Biomedicine - Chair I University Hospital and
University of Würzburg
Josef-Schneider-Str. 2 / D15
97080 Würzburg
Phone: +49 931 201-48328 (office)
E-mail: bender_m1@ukw.de
Website: www.bender-lab.de

Academic Education

2006-2010 PhD student at the Department of Experimental Biomedicine,
University of Würzburg, Germany
2006 Master of Science in Biomedicine, University of Würzburg,
Germany
2004 Bachelor of Science in Biomedicine, University of Würzburg,
Germany
2001-2006 Undergraduate student of Biomedicine at the University of Würzburg, Germany

Scientific Degrees

2010 PhD: Dr. rer. nat., Department of Experimental Biomedicine,
University of Würzburg, Germany

Professional Career

Since 2022 Professor for Cardiovascular Cell Biology
Since 2021 Acceptance into the Heisenberg Programme of the DFG
2018-2022 Project leader in the TR240 "Platelets"
2015-2021 Emmy Noether group leader of the DFG at the Institute of Experimental Biomedicine, University Hospital Würzburg,
Germany
2015-2017 Affiliation with the Collaborative Research Centre 688 (SFB 688)
2014 Return Fellowship (DFG) at the Institute of Experimental Biomedicine, University Hospital Würzburg, Germany
2012-2014 Postdoctoral Fellow (DFG Research Fellowship), Division of Translational Medicine, Brigham and Women's Hospital,
Harvard Medical School, Boston, USA
2010-2012 Postdoc, Rudolf Virchow Center, University Hospital Würzburg,
Germany

Awards and Scholarships

2021	Acceptance into the Heisenberg Programme of the DFG
2020	Alexander-Schmidt Award (Basic Medical Research)
2015	Emmy Noether group leader of the DFG
2015	Bayer Thrombosis Research Award
2014	Return Fellowship (DFG)
2012	Research Fellowship (DFG)
2009	Young Investigator Award by the International Society on Thrombosis and Haemostasis (ISTH)